Calvin's Master of Education programs (M.Ed.) have been designed for experienced teachers and administrators who wish to attend a college that pursues academic excellence. Calvin's M.Ed. programs are unique in that they provide teachers with the opportunity to integrate a Christian perspective on life and teaching with their understanding of the professional role of the educator. Courses may be used to renew the Michigan Provisional Teaching Certificate or to apply for the Michigan Professional Teaching Certificate.

Students fulfill program requirements during fall or spring semester evening courses, concentrated summer courses and workshops, and online courses.

Calvin offers four M.Ed. programs:

- Curriculum and Instruction
- Educational Leadership
- Learning Disabilities (with or without the Learning Disabilities endorsement)
- Literacy (with or without the Reading Specialist endorsement)

Calvin also offers endorsement programs in over 30 different subject areas. This program is designed for teachers who wish to add additional subjects to their teaching certificates. Courses may be used to renew the Provisional Certificate or earn the Professional Certificate. Teachers complete all courses required for a minor in the endorsement subject (or a major if a minor is not offered). Teachers will need to pass the MTTC test for the endorsement subject.

Master's and Endorsement students are charged the graduate tuition rate, which is significantly less than the undergraduate tuition rate. Students accepted to the program may be eligible for financial aid or Education Department scholarships.

For additional information, visit the Graduate Studies Website at http://www.calvin.edu/academic/graduate_studies/ or contact Cindi Hoekstra, Graduate Program Coordinator at choekstr@calvin.edu.