The population in Port-au-Prince, Haiti is growing rapidly, and is estimated to increase by 7.4 million by 2030. This is estimated to create a need for an additional 200,000 homes surrounding the city. Our team is collaborating with Maxima Housing, located in Port-au-Prince to design an affordable, practical, and durable housing kit geared towards the lower middle class population of the city.