From the Director

Recently, I looked back at our spring 2020 newsletter, which came out at the very start of the Covid-19 pandemic. At that time, we hoped to be able to run our summer programs as usual...but by May, we had taken the decision to defer everything for a year. So we will host our deferred Genevan Paleography workshop from July 17 to 23, 2021, welcoming all the participants who had been selected for 2020 (see p. 3 for the list). We also deferred all the 2020 visiting fellowship recipients to 2021 – we will therefore not offer new awards in 2021. Those wishing to apply for a Meeter Center fellowship should plan on applying by January 1, 2022. Finally, our conference on the Puritans will now take place on Friday and Saturday, September 24 and 25, 2021. We look forward to welcoming our outstanding lineup of speakers: Margaret Bendroth, Richard Muller, Chad van Dixhoorn, Abram van Engen, and Adrian Weimer.

In spite of the challenges of these days, we continue to build connections far and wide among those interested in the Reformation. This fall, we inaugurated our series of Zoom Reformation Conversations, in which scholars discuss recent work on a given theme. On September 24, Lyle Bierma of Calvin Theological Seminary and Yudha Thianto of Trinity Christian College spoke on the theology and practice of baptism. On November 11, Jeff Watt of the University of Mississippi will present his recent work on the Genevan Consistory, in a three-way conversation with Scott Manetsch (Trinity Evangelical Divinity School) and Karen Spierling (Denison University) on church discipline. These Zoom sessions are open to all who sign up. Contact Deborah Snider (ds56@calvin.edu) to receive the sign-up link. We also have other video interviews and short clips of items from our rare book collection at <https://www.facebook.com/meetercenter>.

Enjoy!

In Memoriam

The Meeter Center wishes to honor the memory of two scholars of Reformation studies who passed away over the last few months. On June 6, the noted expert on Calvin's writings and on early modern imprints, Dr. Jean-François Gilmont, died at age eighty-six. Among other works, he published with Rodolphe Peter the magnificent multi-volume Bibliotheca Calviniana, which still remains one of the best resources on the publication history of Calvin's writings in the sixteenth century. He also was the architect of the digital database GLN 15-16, which provides access to the titles and often the full text of all works published in Geneva, Lausanne, and Neuchâtel in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. Unfailingly kind and generous in sharing his knowledge with other scholars, he will be deeply missed.

On July 13, the French historian Professor Bernard Cottret died suddenly of a heart attack at his home. He was sixty-nine. His scholarship focused on English history, but also on the French Reformation.

He was the author of a well-regarded biography of John Calvin, published in an English translation by Eerdmans and T&T Clark in 2000. The Meeter Center welcomed him to Grand Rapids for a visit and presentation when the book came out. His warmth and enthusiasm shone through. The Meeter Center offers its heartfelt sympathy to both men's families, friends, and colleagues.
