ASSISTANT / ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR
SPEECH PATHOLOGY & AUDIOLOGY

DESCRIPTION
Calvin University invites applications and nominations for an assistant or associate professor position (Tenure-track) in the Speech Pathology and Audiology Department (SPAUD). We are seeking a collaborative colleague interested in serving at a liberal arts university with opportunities for interprofessional initiatives in teaching, clinical work, and scholarship. Responsibilities include undergraduate and graduate teaching; scholarly activity; department- and college-level service; academic advising; and mentoring student research.

QUALIFICATIONS
Education
Candidates should have a PhD in communication sciences and disorders, or related discipline. Strong ABD candidates are encouraged to apply.

Expertise
Preferred areas of expertise include child speech and language, but candidates with expertise in other areas will also be considered.

Faith and Educational Commitment
Commitment to the Christian faith; commitment to the integration of one’s faith with learning, particularly in one's area of expertise as well as in student development; commitment to the educational mission of Calvin University as a Christian liberal arts university in the Reformed tradition, affiliated with the Christian Reformed Church. See Educating For Shalom.

Diversity Commitment
Demonstrated awareness of and commitment to establishing relationships and positive communication across multiple dimensions of diversity including, but not limited to, race, gender, physical limitations, class, or religious perspectives.

CALVIN UNIVERSITY’S SPAUD COMMUNITY
We are committed to preparing our students with the academic knowledge, clinical skills, and reflective practices necessary to enter the field as professionals who are lifelong learners and leaders in advocacy. Our staff and faculty describe the SPAUD department as a community of teachers who are dedicated to engaging collaboratively in meaningful work, as well as keeping a sense of humor during meetings.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE AND TIMELINE
Please submit your full curriculum vitae accompanied by a letter of application that addresses the requirements and responsibilities of the position, including your interest in teaching and scholarship at a Reformed Christian University. Send these documents to Emily Vedra (ejv4@calvin.edu) in the Speech Pathology and Audiology Department. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Informal interviews are welcomed in November at the ASHA convention; please email Emily to inquire. On-campus interviews will begin January 2020.
