Africa Inalnd Mission	Multiple	Africa needs teachers desperately, and with as little as one year of college or university under your belt, you can help meet this incredible need. At the same time, you can be a light for Jesus Christ in word and deed to those who represent the future of Africa. If you have a gift for teaching others and a heart for young people, AIM has many opportunities that will enable you to exercise those gifts while investing in the lives of others – and in the future of a continent. Opportunities usually fall into categories: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Teaching Africans in a national school • Teaching Africans in Theological education • Teaching MKs (missionary kids) in a boarding school • Teaching MKs as a homeschool teacher (in a remote location) Each of these positions supports church-planting efforts among African peoples, particularly the unreached.
