You’re invited to revel in wonder, beauty, and technical expertise this season.

Calvin College’s upcoming exhibitions, concerts, and theatre performances promise to spark curiosity about the world God created.

You may be familiar with Colossians 1:15–20:

He (Jesus Christ) is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all creation. For by him all things were created, in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or authorities—all things were created through him and for him. And he is before all things, and in him all things hold together. And he is the head of the body, the church. He is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, that in everything he might be preeminent. For in him all the fullness of God was pleased to dwell, and through him to reconcile to himself all things, whether on earth or in heaven, making peace by the blood of his cross.

Since we believe these truths from scripture—that Christ was instrumental to creation, holding all things together, and reconciling all things—we at Calvin are committing our efforts in the arts this year to create, unite, and renew.

It’s a bold undertaking but, by God’s grace, our students, faculty, and guest artists are fit for the task.

Join us this year as we dare to create art that speaks truth, to unite artists of all forms, and to undergo, encourage, and generate renewal in the process.

Won’t you come alongside us this season? We’ve got a place reserved just for you.

ARTS AT CALVIN
2018–2019 SEASON

About Calvin
Calvin College is internationally recognized as a center of faith-anchored liberal arts teaching and scholarship. Founded in 1876 by the Christian Reformed Church and named for the sixteenth-century reformer John Calvin, the college welcomes students from an array of faith traditions. At Calvin, they discover a distinctive meld of Christian worldview and fearless academic inquiry.

Occupyng 390 wooded acres in Grand Rapids, Michigan, Calvin’s modern campus offers students remarkable resources: sophisticated scientific and communications facilities, elegant performance spaces, an excellent library and a flourishing 100-acre ecosystem preserve. Grand Rapids, a metropolitan area of one million, hosts a professional ballet, opera and symphony; a botanical and sculpture garden; the international art competition, ArtPrize; four sports franchises; and many other urban amenities.
“Reconciling all things.” This is the foundation from which the arts divisions at Calvin College began the creative process of developing the 2018-19 theme, “Create.Unite.Renew.” Our desire was to embrace not only the process of artistic creation but the emotional, physical, and spiritual healing that the arts can bring to an individual, a community and the social concerns of race, gender, and body image. With this healing there is reconciliation and renewed hope. For the first time in Calvin’s history, all six arts programs will join together to create a season that brings hope and healing to participating student artists, engaged audience members, and the greater community as a whole. We welcome you to the 2018-2019 season.

Calvin Music Festival
October 19  ■  7:30 p.m.
Covenant Fine Arts Center Auditorium

A delight for the ears and awe for the eyes, the Calvin Music Festival presents the Department of Music’s four student choirs, three bands and orchestra in a one-night only concert. This year, the department proudly features multiple student chamber groups and student solos.

Molly Shanahan/Mad Shak
October 22  ■  8 p.m.
Covenant Fine Arts Center Auditorium

Of Whales, Time, and Your Last Attempt to Reach Me is the 2018 evening-length work by Molly Shanahan/Mad Shak featuring performances by Shanahan, Kristina Fluty, Jeff Hancock, and Megan Klein in collaboration with Joshua Paul Weckesser on lighting.

Co-sponsored by the Student Activities Office and the Dance Minor
Tickets: Tickets are not required.
Lecture & Panel Discussion: Prof. Julia Lupton, Shakespeare Scholar
October 29 ➔ 7 p.m.
Calvin College Chapel

Prof. Julia Lupton’s forthcoming book, Shakespeare’s Virtues: Ethics, Entertainment and Education, explores the virtues dramatized in William Shakespeare’s plays, cultivated in theatrical work, and exercised in literature classrooms. Shakespeare’s Virtues makes the case for increased knowledge and skill-sharing among scholars and artists alike. She will be joining the Calvin community for an all-campus lecture on the arts as essential to understanding and living a virtuous life. Prof. Lupton directs an arts and culture initiative at the University of California, Irvine, where she also serves as Associate Dean for Research in the School of Humanities. She is the author/co-author of four books on Shakespeare.

Sponsored by the English Department
Tickets: Tickets are not required.

Lessons & Carols “Reconciling All Things”
December 2 ➔ 3 p.m. & 6 p.m.
LaGrave Ave. Christian Reformed Church

A service of lessons and carols inspired by the vision of Colossians 1:20 that through Jesus, God is reconciling to himself all things on earth and in heaven. Join Calvin College Women’s Chorale and Capella, under the direction of conductor Pearl Shangkuan, and the Campus Choir, under the direction of Sean Ivory, for the 45th annual service of Lessons and Carols on Sunday, December 2.

Co-sponsored by Calvin Institute of Christian Worship and the Music Department
Tickets: A free-will offering will be collected; tickets are not required.

Spinning into Butter
January 31, February 1, 2 ➔ 7:30 p.m.
Lab Theatre
by Rebecca Gilman
Directed by April Hubbard

Belmont College is a small, seemingly idyllic New England school with progressive ideas. However, the campus community is rocked by random acts of racism that cause administrators, faculty, and students to consider their own prejudices and attitudes about race, politically correct language, identity, and community. The process for these characters is painful and surprising. Rebecca Gilman’s powerful play refuses to offer simple answers and conclusions. Instead, it asks “What if this were us?” For the audience, hope lies in our ability to speak to these issues in our own families, churches and communities.

Tickets: Adult - $15 presale, $20 at door Student - $5 pre-sale, $10 at door Group of 15 or more - $10 in advance (no discount at the door)

Precious Bane
November 2, 3, 8, 9, 10  7:30 p.m.
Gezon Auditorium

By Mary Webb,
Adapted for the stage by Meryl Friedman
Directed by Natalie Carmolli

In the rural hamlet of 18th century Shropshire, a birth defect marks Prudence Sarn as a witch. Prue’s brother Gideon convinces her that marriage and family are impossible for someone like her, a social outcast. In his mad ambition for wealth and land, Gideon indentures his sister to his property and lays waste to love, family, and friends. Yet, a traveling weaver sees beyond Prue’s facial disfigurement and recognizes her compassionate heart. As their stories and lives cross paths, greed, ambition, prejudice, and hatred contrast with love’s redemptive power to create a rich and varied tapestry.
